Customer Reviews

This book has lots of great ideas of what to do as a couple. I personally had a copy of this already, but loved it so much, I bought it again and again for my friends who were getting married. Makes a great gift. My husband and I especially love the activities where you ask each other questions and learn more about each other. The quality was great. Came in excellent condition and shipped quickly. Very satisfied!

Was given this as a newlywed and loved it so much that I had to buy it and pass it on to other newlyweds!

I love to give this to all couples getting married. There is no better way to begin communicating in a marriage than following some of these ideas. And having a weekly time to sit down as a family, even if it is just two of you, is a marriage builder. We need stronger marriages.

I have given this book to 3 couples so far. It can be hard to come up with something to do for family home evening when you are just starting out and this book has some wonderful ideas! Love it!

This was really helpful for ideas for family home evening especially when its just the two of you. I found it really helpful with ideas for a fun, quick, and easy activity for just two people.

When you are newly married and can't come up with FHE lesson this book has some really cute and fun activities that make FHE fun for the two of you.

awesome book to keep getting to know your spouse. bought one for myself and one as a wedding gift for my brother.

If you have never seen this book, get it. This was a replacement purchase and a gift purchase. We are getting close to yet another anniversary and this book has been so much fun to do. It's not just for you as a couple, its a great base for all FHEs. It's also small so it can go with you on vacations or travel (unlike those giant old ones). Every newlywed, empty-nester, and young family should have this!
