30 Amazing Mind Science Truths

Synopsis

Behind All Creation Is The Truth Which Never Changes. If we are to worship God, we must worship Him in spirit and in truth. To worship is to commune, to understand. But we often mistake facts for truth. Facts are appearances, the way things seem to be. To accept them as unchangeable is to limit ourselves. To observe a lack of money in one's experience today, or a misuse of great wealth by someone else, does not mean that money or its lack causes unhappiness. The truth is that money is God-substance, representing in each individual case the symbol of self-giving. If thought of as a means to impress others, or as a power to control others, or to use in any harmful manner it could produce evil or unhappiness. But such facts could only be the use made of money. Also the thought that an abundant supply is not God-like or would deprive others of their good is equally erroneous. Nowhere in the universe is substance limited. We must come to know that God is infinite Supply and this truth is at the foundation of our lives. This day I am freed from the worship of facts, and through understanding embrace the truth of my life: God is my supply. His substance circulates as unceasing good in my life. I accept that the opportunity for self-giving according to my talents is always at hand.
