Wholly Different: Why I Chose Biblical Values Over Islamic Values

Synopsis

Western countries are ignorant of true Islamic values, says Nonie Darwish. Darwish is an Egyptian American, former Muslim human rights activist who is frustrated with mainstream America's talk of tolerance and assimilation. In Wholly Different, Darwish sets non-Muslims straight about tenets of Islam that are incompatible with free society. For the first time, Darwish tells the whole story of her personal break with Islam, starting with the brutal physical violence and rigid class system she witnessed and culminating with the spine-tingling visit she received from President Nasser after her father, Fedayeen commander Mustafa Hayez, was assassinated by Israeli Defense Forces. She lays out the "seventh-century values" of Islam that religious extremists are so intent on protecting through global warfare - values that set Islam apart from the other Abrahamic religions.

This is one of the best books on islam and christianity, and I have read a lot of them. The reason it stands out is that it's a personal journey written by a former muslim, and yet very calm, understanding and yet analytical. Most of the critical books on islam just keep repeating the same things, but this book was different. And better still: this is a book that you, without offending anyone, could give to some of your "liberal" apologetic friends who keep on defending islam all the time, and they would not think of it as an aggressive provocation, but rather as a soft eye-opener. Nonie's voice is very authentic and "loving" so even when she speaks about all the problems with islam, you never get the feeling that she looks down on muslims as persons, she just wants to reflect over the doctrines, the denials, the anger and all the psychological problems that come with islam. Thank you, Nonie Darwish!

Excellent book! Even if you have read a good deal about Islam, Nonie Darwish presents fresh, new insights as to why the vicious ideology of Islam is destructive in every way. It is the complete opposite of the Western worldview. Get this book and be prepared to battle JIHAD in every form! Diane Zinn Anaheim Hills, CA

We should all salute to Nonie Darwish for such a great combination of bravery and compassion. With no hesitation she confronts the Islamists, their Prophet and their god with sharp Questions while showing her concern and love to the over billion Muslims who are trapped in their horrible cages by their cruel dictators. Here are some of my topics: 1. Ignoring the politically correctness strange rules Nonie defines Islam as "Expansionist Genocidal Ideology". 2. She asks almighty Allah: 'Why couldn't you kill us all instead of sending us a prophet with a book which is a checklist how we should continuously kill each other?' 3. Another question is directed to the logic of the Islamists: 'Your god and your prophet are so proud while defining themselves as the best deceivers in the world. What makes you believe in their scriptures and that they are really who they claim they are?' 4. Nonie blesses the people of her own origin in the same healing she experienced escaping from the Islamic cage. Those are 4 of the topics I raised from this book. I could provide you Dear Readers with dozens of additional highlights, as strong and as clear as these 4. I rather suggest you to go and read. This is not just a must read book, it is a must learn book. Thank you Nonie for a great book, keep on the good work. Your significant contribution to the future generations must be appreciated.

Think of this book as corrective lenses for Western politicians and secularists. Ms Darwish is uniquely qualified to accurately delineate the difference between Islam and Christianity and point out the threat to human rights which occurs with Muslim immigration. Your instincts are right - Islam IS incompatible with democracy and the universal human rights promulgated by Western civilization.

Excellent book that I think should be required reading. Unfortunately, most Westerners don't know much about the true nature of this religion, and will refer to it as "hate speech." It's very frustrating that there are too many people who will listen to a person who actually lived through the culture, but still believe lies, or even refuse to listen in the first place. Many people need to wake up.

Nonie's understanding of the Muslim faith is evident in this book. Definitely an awesome read for everyone that wants to understand the difference between faiths and the conglomerate of their ideologies. Glad I bought this book, worth every penny.

Muslims constantly claim that they want to have dialogues about their faith and clear up the misconceptions, that this only when the participants are clueless. Nonie Darwish joins the discussion of Christianity vs. Islam with a lot of credibility, having lived the first 30 years of her life as a Muslim before becoming a Christian about 17 years ago. She has identified over 50 stark differences between the two ideologies -- faith vs. submission, trust vs. distrust, self-control vs. controlling others, etc. Needless to say, Christianity comes out on top. This is an objective, well-documented discussion, and it is not a churchy testimony. Too often, defenders of Islam are short on quotations from the sacred texts and long on "alternate facts." Not so with Ms. Darwish. Two issues get special attention in her book: The Western feminists' failure to recognize the wretched misogyny facing half the Muslim world and the Muslims' effective use of Muslims-as-victims myth to gain sympathy in the West. Islam will continue to inch its way into our culture as long as there is rebellion against Biblical values and as long as there are opinion leaders who naively assume that all religions and cultures are basically the same.

Very informative and personally written from true experience. Tells what Muslims truly believe and worship. Pretty scary and things we all need to know to understand the deep inner thinking of the minds of Muslims.
