Praise for Race the Wild: "Along with zoological wonders, the race offers exciting challenges aplenty." -- Booklist "Fans of survival stories, adventure, puzzles, and mystery will enjoy this..." -- School Library Journal

Kristin Earhart grew up riding horses, pestering her cat, and reading books about amazing animals. These days, she lives with her husband and son in Brooklyn, New York, and writes books of her own. She still loves animals. But now, when she pesters her cat, the surly cat pesters back.

Love this series of books. A great way to learn about animals and geography! A great read for kids and adults!

My 5yo son absolutely loves this series. So much so that we're on round two of reading through it again. Very informative and educational regarding animals, their natural habitats, behavior, etc. Each chapter ends with a "creature feature" which gives even more detail regarding a specific animal of the area.

I'm reading this series of books with my students who just fell in love with the series! It's a great read or read aloud to do with upper elementary aged students.

My son loved this series- I hope that more come out! Nice mix of storytelling and informative facts.

My 7 year old daughter loves this series.

I think I've reviewed every one of the Race the Wild series because they have been fantastic for my 2nd grade son. The mix of adventure and science learning was fantastic in these stories and the characters are great too. They are not perfect, and the readers definitely get to see their flaws, which makes real kids be able to relate to them more easily in my opinion. This book has a more serious tone, as it should given the setting. Readers really get a sense that the stakes are higher, and the importance of teamwork. The only thing that I wasn't thrilled on was the ending, but I think this may be the end of the series, so it had to be wrapped up. It's still well worth reading for sure!

My daughter is in 2nd grade and loves this series. She's the climbing tree and scientist kind of girl and this series has made her love reading. The vocabulary is very rich and she learns new words every day. She's so proud when she sees other books or magazine that she can relate the facts she learned in the book. A great way to travel the world before bedtime.
