Helen Musselwhite works with paper to create magical illustrated models and sets. Cutting by hand, she uses coloured and painted paper as she builds detailed and multi-layered scenes inspired by the natural world and its inhabitants. Her clients include brands such as Audi, McDonalds, Cadburys and Nokia as well as numerous publications. She works from a home studio near Manchester accompanied by her trusty assistant, a dog called Earl.

This book is adorable. There is one number and scene on each page. For instance, TWO has two houses, two birds, two trees, two clouds, etc. The illustrations are awesome and both my 2 and 3 year old love this book.

Wonderful artwork. The children in my preschool classrooms loved counting the homes and talking about all the illustrations on the pages. Absolutely beautiful artwork on each page.

My daughter loves to count the houses and we talk about where in the world you can find them- so educational

Perfect for baby/toddlers of parents in design field

Love the art style

great book. Very good quality. My baby loves it.

My daughter is 17 months and loves this book! Beautiful art on each page. She loves animals and counting so this book is great. Animals on most pages. And same number of animals, plants, etc on the page so you can count more than just houses. I think it will grow with her well.
