Customer Reviews

When the book arrived I was surprised to learn it was full of great information. Mr Richards did a thorough job researching and footnoting his facts in this informative treasure of a book. Every tax expert and student of international tax and commerce should read this book. It will educate any tax or financial executive in a multinational corporation or anyone consulting to a multinational on tax and financial matters. Another surprise surrounding this book is the material used on the cover of the book. I have no idea what the author or publisher used as a material for the cover but your hands want to hold it often. The book cover is unlike I have ever experienced holding a book; it has an unusually nice to it inside and out. Anyone who really wants to understand how international tax and finance work together will find this is a must read. It should be read by every tax and finance executive running a multinational business or tax lawyer or advisor consulting to one. Kat Jennings, CEO TaxConnections
