You Were Made To Make A Difference

Synopsis

Want to change the world? Did you know You Were Made to Make a Difference? This adaptation of Outlive Your Life for teens offers practical tips youth can take out into their community to make a difference, plus real-life stories about those who have done just that. Teens learn that God can use them to make a difference right now. He wants to use them today, without waiting for them to be older, stronger, richer, or even more "together." • God can use their minds, their spirits, and their hands and feet to make permanent change for His kingdom. Also included are valuable resources, interesting facts about the needy in the world and how little it takes to make a big difference, and other interactive elements such as journaling opportunities for writing personal ideas and service goals. Teens will learn that their role in life is bigger than themselves, and that they're not too young to make a difference for God. Meets national education standards.

With more than 130 million products in print, Max Lucado is America's bestselling inspirational author. He serves the Oak Hills Church in San Antonio, Texas, where he lives with his wife, Denalyn, and their mischievous mutt, Andy.

I loved this book and read it quickly. It infuses scripture, and biblical stories with 'modern' interpretations. There are many suggestions for living our daily lives according to what Christ commissioned his disciples to do. Highly recommended if you want to make the world a better place by making small changes in your interactions with those that were created in God's image.

Scripture with shoes on and ready to act. Max always inspires one to live out their faith. A great study for small groups.

Another great Max Lucado book, full of golden nuggets, that will help put life's ups and downs in perspective.

I have read this book with ease, and after every chapter, I spent time reflecting and sharing the information with friends and family - and that doesn't happen a lot when I read! Max Lucado was on KLOVE radio when I first heard about this book, and together with the listeners he went over the important points of the book, except I did not read it back then. I wish I had. Each chapter is like a call to action to make a difference in someone else's life. It is rooted in Bible verses and references, that is what makes it Christian, but the stories would be appealing to anyone who has an ounce of altruism. Indifference is one of the biggest problems in current society, and this honest book tells the story of those whose voices are not represented by the popular vote. I am planning to read this book again, until I convert it to my permanent memory and start living by the principles of the Bible, so soulfully described here. As a result of reading this book, I believe that even I can make a positive difference in the world. I believe that everyone should read this book to at least be aware of how hard and calloused we have become as a society.

I highly recommend this book from Max Lucado. This book challenges the reader to get up and "do something" especially those of us who claim to have a heart for the weak, broken, downtrodden and disenfranchised. Its so easy for us to climb into our proverbial "shell" when we do not want to deal with a circumstances or people outside of our box. This book informs us the need to make a difference.

Great book! My son loved reading it over the summer.

I really loved this book

OutLive Your Life
Out Live your life, by Max Lucado...Since reading this book, I have loaned out my copy, bought it for prize give aways, and given it as gifts. This book came to me at a point in my life that I really needed it. Lucado outlines ways to become more. In the world we live in...a world that is self centered, TV says to do what is right for you. Things that are unhealthy for us are readily available on the Internet....Feed yourself first. Give your leftovers to those in need. Give your left overs to God. Lucado plainly tells us how to become more...in a way that only Lucado can do.This book is for everyone. You won't walk away feeling like you failed, but you will walk away challenged to do more. And when you do more for others, the blessings will come back. Go ahead, take the challenge!! am not paid by Thomas Nelson for this review. I have done it on my own free will!Enjoy Out Live your Life....Help your neighbor~!
